

Birth . . . Katie with Cruise

Cruise in birth control

TOM Cruise and his pregnant lover Katie Holmes have started putting up signs around their home reminding her to keep SILENT when she gives birth. It is part of their belief as Scientologists. Full Story — Page Five

CORRIE'S MIKE DOES A NELSON

Kiss me, Ken

SEE PAGE 7

WONDER DRUG ON WAY

CURE FOR PMT

By JACQUI THORNTON
Health Editor

A WONDER drug that cures PMT is being developed by British scientists.

It could mean an end to the monthly blues for thousands of women.

Men will celebrate too — after earbashing from partners hit by bouts of irritability, headaches and even plate-throwing rage.

The cure for PMT — now usually called pre-menstrual syndrome — is among extra benefits offered by a new birth pill.

Full story — Page Six

Crime of month . . . PMT plate smasher

(Good news for millions of women..and men)

Brat . . . girl's face hidden

Booze girl, 14, belts a lawyer

A RAGING girl of 14 thumped a prosecution lawyer yesterday as she was locked up for drink-driving.

Revolting chav Leanne Black went berserk after leaping from the dock in Newbury, Berks.

It was her SECOND drink-drive rap. She became Britain's youngest boozy motorist when she was 12. Full Story — Page Nine